Geometry : Vectors — problem 12.1.29

A. Engel — Problem-Solving Strategies · 1998

Regular triangles are erected on the sides of a point symmetric hexagon, and their neighboring vertices are joined by segments. Show that the midpoints of these segments are vertices of a regular hexagon.