Harder Geometrical Problems — problem 12.3.2.38

A. Engel — Problem-Solving Strategies · 1998

---

The vertices of a convex polyhedron are lattice points. There are no other lattice points inside on the faces or edges. Show that the polyhedron has at most eight vertices.