Games — problem 13.2

A. Engel — Problem-Solving Strategies · 1998

There are initially 10^7 chips on a table. The set of moves consists of p^n, where p is any prime and n can be any nonnegative integer. The winner is the one to take the last chip. Find L.