Enumerative Combinatorics — problem 5.41

A. Engel — Problem-Solving Strategies · 1998

Prove that 139 comparisons are sufficient to identify the objects of ranks $1, 2, 3$ in a set of 128 objects, if no two of them have the same weight.