Number Theory — problem 6.74

A. Engel — Problem-Solving Strategies · 1998

Let (x, y, z) be a solution of $x^2 + y^2 = z^2$. Show that one of the three numbers is divisible by (a) 3 (b) 4 (c) 5.