Easy Geometrical Problems — problem 12.3.1.14

A. Engel — Problem-Solving Strategies · 1998

Find a point inside (a) a quadrilateral (b) a regular hexagon so that the sum of its distances from the vertices is minimal. The problem for the regular pentagon is considerably tougher and will be treated later.