Easy Geometrical Problems — problem 12.3.1.51

A. Engel — Problem-Solving Strategies · 1998

Two parallel planes and two spheres are given in space. The first plane touches the first sphere in A, the second plane touches the second sphere in B, and the spheres touch in C. Prove that A, B, C are collinear.