Harder Geometrical Problems — problem 12.3.2.66

A. Engel — Problem-Solving Strategies · 1998

If each vertex of a convex polyhedron is joined to every other vertex by edges, then it is a tetrahedron (HMO 1948).