Games — problem 13.6

A. Engel — Problem-Solving Strategies · 1998

A and B place white and black bishops on squares of a chessboard, which are free and not threatened by an enemy bishop. The loser is the one who cannot move any more. (The one who moves may place his bishop on squares of both colors.)