Coloring Proofs — problem 2.12

A. Engel — Problem-Solving Strategies · 1998

---

A beetle sits on each square of a $9 \times 9$ chessboard. At a signal each beetle crawls diagonally onto a neighboring square. Then it may happen that several beetles will sit on some squares and none on others. Find the minimal possible number of free squares.