Enumerative Combinatorics — problem 5.6

A. Engel — Problem-Solving Strategies · 1998

Of $3n+1$ objects, n are indistinguishable, and the remaining ones are distinct. Show that one can choose from them n objects in 2^{2n} ways.