Harder Geometrical Problems — problem 12.3.2.35

A. Engel — Problem-Solving Strategies · 1998

Several intersecting circles are given in a plane. Their union has area 1. Prove that one can select several nonintersecting circles, so that the sum of their areas is at least 1/9.