Harder Geometrical Problems — problem 12.3.2.37

A. Engel — Problem-Solving Strategies · 1998

Prove that not more than one vertex of a tetrahedron has the property that the sum of any two plane angles at this vertex is more than 180°.