Games — problem 13.12

A. Engel — Problem-Solving Strategies · 1998

A and B start with $p = 1$. Then they alternately multiply p by one of the numbers 2 to 9. The winner is the one who first reaches (a) $p \geq 1000$, (b) $p \geq 10^6$. Who wins, A or B ?