Games — problem 13.27

A. Engel — Problem-Solving Strategies · 1998

Start with two piles of p and q chips, respectively. A and B move alternately. A move consists in removing any pile and splitting the other pile into two piles. The loser is the one who cannot move any more. Who wins, depending on the initial conditions ?